7 Third Ave, Marcoola

Salt air and sunny days

A home like this, in this kind of location, ticks all the boxes for laid back coastal living. A ten-minute walk to the shoreline for endless exploring, a surf after work, and that constant sea breeze. Indoors, waterfall stone-bench kitchen is central to the open plan design. Large tiles add an earthy tone and flow through the whole home keeping it cool all summer long. Other recent updates include bathrooms, appliances and decoration.

The fly-over solid timber pergola provides a space large enough to entertain a crowd, or make it a luxurious kick-back area by adding plush outdoor furnishings to enhance the beach vibe. The oversized high-clearance double garage is ideal for cars, caravan or boat and still room for a workshop and storage.

High fences and established gardens provide total privacy, and the cul-de-sac street means less traffic and the right environment for family and pets. If you like the idea of a sea change where the hard work is already done, this could be the coastal fit you've been searching for.
